Product information:

The inspiration for Orbit sofa is not limited to a concrete object, but more like Frank's attempt to use a concrete design piece to express his thinking about abstract concepts. Orbit comes from the mutual feeling of various images, presenting both disunity and harmony, mellow and fierce, thick and thin. Along with the appearance, there is a philosophical thinking of contradictory opposition and unity. The two sides of contradiction are interdependent, in the same carrier, just as there is rational knowledge in perceptual knowledge and vice versa. Through integrating seemingly colliding elements together, Orbit aims to achieve a playful coordination.
